

Ethel Ashworth-Tsutsui Memorial Lecture & Awards

Navigating the Road to a Career in Academia

Dr. Jennifer Dulin
Associate Professor
Department of Biology
TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY

Fewer and fewer graduate students are opting to pursue careers in academia. What are the benefits of becoming an academic scientist? Importantly, how can we achieve this goal?

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, 2024

12:30 PM

Biological Sciences Building West (BSBW)
Room 025

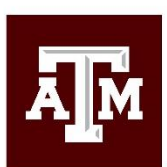

In conjunction with the Department of Biology
Graduate Students' Association Fall 2024
Seminar Series at Texas A&M University

The Ethel Ashworth-Tsutsui
Memorial Lecture and Awards are sponsored by Women in Science and Engineering

www.wisetamu.com

Recipients of the Ethel Ashworth-Tsutsui Memorial Awards will be recognized following the lecture. These awards are given to honor the memory of Ethel Ashworth-Tsutsui, a founding member of Women in Science and Engineering and a leader in enhancing women's presence in science and technology fields. The Ethel Ashworth-Tsutsui Award for Mentoring was established to recognize graduate students, postdoctoral researchers, and research staff who take action to encourage and support graduate students. The Ethel Ashworth-Tsutsui Award for Research was established to recognize graduate students who have demonstrated excellence in research. Women in Science and Engineering is an organization of undergraduate students, graduate students, faculty, postdoctoral fellows, and staff at Texas A&M University.

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY
College of Arts
& Sciences

Outreach & Engagement
artscioutreach.tamu.edu
rhiannonk@tamu.edu